

Author's response to reviews

Title: An adaptogenic role for omega-3 fatty acids in stress; a randomised placebo controlled double blind intervention study (pilot)

Authors:

Joanne Bradbury (jbradbury@byrononline.net)

Stephen P Myers (smyers@scu.edu.au)

Chris Oliver (coliver@scu.edu.au)

Version: 3 Date: 18 October 2004

Author's response to reviews: see over

To the Reviewers,

I intend to raise the issue of the ISRCTN with the head of the sponsoring organization, ACCMER (the Australian Center for Complementary Medicine, Education and Research) with the view of registration for this and all our future trials. However, due to availability this meeting will not take place until later this month.

I have changed “There evidence” to “There is evidence”

I have refreshed the page with the cropped images so that they have replaced the uncropped versions.

Thank you for your time and attention,

Joanne Bradbury